HYDRATING

Intensive moisturizing care for dry skin

Water is the elixir of our skin. Our skin should not only receive water on the inside by ensuring that we drink enough but also on the outside by using cosmetic products. These ensure a sustainable supply and retention of moisture in the skin. The skin is organically equipped with natural moisturizing factors which are able to save moisture in the corneal layer. If the corneal layer is dried out, however, due to a lack of moisture, e.g. as a result of air-conditioning, heavy perspiration or extended exposure to the sun, natural moisturizing factors may be lost. This is why the products from the Dr. med. Christine Schrammek derma.cosmetics HYDRATING line contain these ingredients in order to support the moisture retention in the cells. For a fresh and glowing skin.

The product line HYDRATING consists of the following products:
